

WELCOME TO

CYPL CENTER FOR YOUTH PHILANTHROPY AND LEADERSHIP

The Center for Youth Philanthropy and Leadership (CYPL) at UJA-Federation of New York creates meaningful experiences for teens to begin their own philanthropic journeys and engages the whole family in volunteerism and important conversations about Jewish values and what it means to support our community.

Here's how you can get involved:

GIVE A MITZVAH – DO A MITZVAH

Give a Mitzvah – Do a Mitzvah gives families the opportunity to make an impact as they celebrate their child becoming a b'nai mitzvah. This program offers individualized fundraising projects that incorporate meaningful volunteer experiences and families' specific interests and passions to help meet a need in our community. If you can dream it, we can do it!

THE CAROLE AND MICHAEL FRIEDMAN MANHATTAN PHILANTHROPIC ADVISORY COUNCIL FOR TEENS (PACT)

Through PACT, teens in the New York metro area learn and practice fundraising, discover philanthropy through a Jewish lens, volunteer in community, and develop important leadership skills. They also explore the breadth and depth of UJA's work in New York, Israel, and around the world. Many teens who participate in PACT in high school go on to be campus leaders and community changemakers.

PACT: ALUMNI CONNECT

The PACT alumni network engages more than 150 past participants on college campuses across the country. PACT alumni are invited to join exclusive UJA events and briefings, network with professional mentors, and continue honing the leadership skills they developed while part of PACT. Alumni Connect is an important pathway for young adults to continue their philanthropic journeys and maintain their connection to UJA and each other.
